to the quality good enough on the Pel Hughes iGen3?

This document was printed entirely on a Duocolor iGen3 press. Before the color, the registration, the stroke, the finish. So before that the quality is recognized in digital printing, and that it represents a benchmark for the print industry.

Same Duocolor iGen3 is the cost-effective alternative to offset for longer short runs. It features automatic substrate and color, the ability to mix stock within a run, built-in intelligence to maintain color fidelity and registration, and the use of variable information printing (VIP) technology.

The Same Duocolor iGen3 Digital Production Press revolutionizes the production printing industry with:

- Outstanding color quality
- Short run—fast turnaround
- Variable information printing
- Disaggregated speed—up to 6,000 impressions per hour
- Broadthrough economics
